

E3ZM-B

Teaching Method

Note: When the Sensor is first unpacked and used, the teaching indicator (red) will flash slowly to show that teaching has not yet been done. This does not indicate a malfunction. Use the following procedure to conduct teaching.

Note: Depending on the amount of light received, the operation indicator and stability indicator may also change during the teaching operation.